

Ky Standardbred Sales Company, All American Harnessbreds, Embassy Suites Major Delaware, Ohio Grand Circuit Sponsors

By Tom White
July 10, 2002

Delaware, Ohio--Kentucky Standardbred Sales Company, All American Harnessbreds and Embassy Suites Hotel are among the major 2002 Delaware, Ohio Grand Circuit sponsors.

Kentucky Standardbred Sales Company will host owners of all entries to the 57th Little Brown Jug scheduled for Thursday, September 19 at the Delaware, Ohio County Fair. Additional tickets will be available at a discount. Kentucky Standardbred's "Sale of Champions" begins Sunday, September 29 and continues through Tuesday, October 1. "We will sell in three continuous sessions beginning each day at 1 p.m.," said General Manager Randy Manges.

All American Harnessbreds will provide tickets to all owners of fillies who are entered in the 31st Jugette three-year-old filly pace. The Jugette will be raced Wednesday, September 18 during the Delaware Grand Circuit meeting. All American Harnessbreds is owned in partnership by Lou Arno, Fred Hertrick, Grinfromeartoe syndicate and the Yankee Paco syndicate. All American Harnessbreds' yearlings will sell at Kentucky Standardbred in Lexington, KY. and at Standardbred Horse Sales Company in Harrisburg, PA.

Embassy Suites is the official "Hotel Sponsor" for the 2002 Little Brown Jug. Embassy Suites Hotel also will host the traditional Tuesday Night Cocktail Party to celebrate the 57th renewal of the Little Brown Jug. Embassy Suites is located in Dublin, Ohio with easy access to the Delaware fairgrounds. The hotel is offering a special rate to Delaware Grand Circuit visitors. To secure Your reservation, call 614-790-9000 or 1-800-362-2779.

The Delaware Grand Circuit begins Saturday afternoon, September 14 and continues through Jug Day, Thursday, September 19. Post time will be 12:30 p.m. Saturday through Tuesday and 11 a.m. Wednesday and Thursday.